Ethical Fashion Show

Fashion makes people dream. On a global scale, the fashion industry is first and foremost a huge market and an economic driving force for job and wealth creation. This prosperity can and should in turn become the catalyst for sustainable development and social justice. It is towards this very goal that "Ethical Fashion Show" strives since 2004. For the sixth year running the organisers have brought together designers from the world over whom all share the same goal: designing cutting-edge fashion which strives for a better world, a world which respects humanity, the environment, and the skills inherent to each culture.
